This month's Genealogy Club presentation: Kory Meyerink "10 New Resources for New York Research"

March & St. Patrick's Day Brings Our Irish Ancestors to Mind

I have a subscription to "A Letter From Ireland" in which I receive a free weekly email letter from genealogist Mike Collins and his wife Carina in Ireland, filled with interesting Irish tidbits. Mike and Carina also run a group/service called The Green Room that is currently offering a special on membership for 20% off the usual rate until March 19th. One of the membership benefits is free access to johngrenham.com (you may have seen John's presentation for our Genealogy Club back in January). You can sign up on a monthly, yearly, or lifetime basis, and their site will help you with your Irish Kory Meyerink is a seriously well-credentialed genealogist! He is founding director of the Salt Lake Institute of Genealogy, a founder of ProGenealogists, was president of the Utah Genealogical Association, has written extensively, including chapters in all editions of The Source, has spoken and lectured extensively, and his most recent book, New York in 1698, was just published last year. His specialties include Colonial New England and tracing German and Dutch immigrants to America. He will be speaking with us about "10 New Resource for New York Research" genealogical research. Check it out and see if it's a good fit for you.

Sorry for the Interruption in Access to NewspaperArchive

If you've tried to use NewspaperArchive recently you've gotten their notice that they are working to restore access and do not think they will be able to have things up and running again until at least the end of March. They assure us that no financial or personal data has been compromised (not that any of your member data would have been available to them

MyHeritage Continues to Add Data - Swedes Rejoice!

"If you have Swedish heritage, some of the most important records for tracing your family are now fully available on MyHeritage. We've completed the publication of the Sweden Births, Marriages, and Deaths collections, spanning 1850 to 1945 (1920 for births). Together, these collections include more than 33 million historical records drawn from Sweden's Lutheran Church books — the core sources used by researchers to document families across generations."

MyHeritage has worked with ArkivDigital in the past, providing them with indexing services, but now it appears they are offering anyway). Rest assured we will extend you extra credit/time for the loss of access once we know the full extent of that loss. Again, we apologize.

Godfrey Presentations in the Next Few Months - Join Us if You're in the Area

Carol and Al have been booked to speak at several local venues over the next few months, so feel free to join us if you'd like. Most are free, though one does have an associated fee. Al will be speaking in Old Saybrook on April 8th (see the ad at the bottom of the page) on Finding Your Patriot Ancestor at their Senior Center, the Estuary - pre-registration is suggested and cost is $10. They do need a minimum number of participants, so we encourage you to sign up for this one if you're in the area. Carol will be speaking at the Trumbull Public Library on March 10 and 24 with Genealogy Introduction I and II at noon. On Tuesday April 14 Al will do a Zoom presentation at the New London Public Library at 5:00 on "What to Do When the Records Are Scarce" and Carol will be there in person to talk about Cemeteries on April 14.
